Adaptive Re-use: A Sustainable Solution

Opened in 2018
£110M Investment
4100 registered students
208 staff
26,000 sqm. of flexible space

The Vision...

Agile learning:
'every space is a learning space'

Agile working:
'every space is a work space'

Creating spaces that are:

- Flexible, bold & future-proofed (that support different purposes and can be reallocated and reconfigured)
- Creative, supportive & inclusive (designed to energise, inspire and develop the potential of all)

Spaces to inspire student success

Spaces that reflect sector-wide evidence that when learners have the opportunity to work collaboratively, interact with each other, share their experiences and 'learn by doing', it develops their confidence, enhances their engagement and promotes successful learning.

2019 The Guardian University Award's Winner: Sustainable Buildings that Inspire

We are immensely proud that UWS Lanarkshire has been recognised as one of the most sustainable and inspiring buildings at the recent Guardian University Awards. The award is testament to the hard work, careful planning and dedication of everyone involved in this highly ambitious project.

Professor Craig Mahoney, Principal & Vice-Chancellor of UWS

“All the space that different types of learning can occur in...it’s definitely not as intimidating as other universities!”

“How many places there are to study in comfort.
The place makes you WANT to learn!”
